

Jeffco Public Schools – Food Allergy and Sensitivity Policy

The Food and Nutrition Services Department for Jefferson County Public Schools, through participation in the USDA School Lunch and Breakfast Programs, strives to provide a service to actively address and meet the needs of all of the district's 86,000 plus students. The department maintains compliance with all USDA rules, regulations and goals in each aspect of its operation. District menus are planned to maintain compliance and encompass a variety of new and favorite food products. All schools serve district menus as planned. Issues affecting students are always approached with sensitivity and caution including but not limited to food allergies and sensitivity.
