PRIORITY GROUPS

for Public Health School-Located Clinics

- People 6 months through 24 years of age, because they are at higher risk of complications
- People 25 years through 64 years of age who have certain medical conditions that put them at higher risk for influenza-related complications.
- Pregnant women because they are at higher risk of complications and can potentially provide protection to infants who cannot be vaccinated
- People who live with or care for children younger than 6 months of age, because younger infants are at higher risk of influenza-related complications and cannot be vaccinated
- Healthcare and emergency medical services personnel because their infection can spread to vulnerable patients. Absenteeism in this population can also reduce health care system capacity
